

How to nurture a child's mental health

Model good health behaviour (get enough sleep, eat well and exercise)

View their behaviour as a window to their needs and feelings

Actively listen before you offer advice and share your feelings while validating theirs

Be present and communicate using open-ended questions to make sure they express themselves

Respond calmly when their emotions are elevated and hug them